MANIFEST

As a metaphor, "DEM," referring to "breath and time" in its most basic form, expresses the process by which people achieve tolerance and love. The focus of the great thinker Mevlana Celaleddin RUMI's philosophy, who lived in Anatolia in the 13th century, is humanity. He contends that a climate of tolerance and peace based on love is a unifying and developing force for all humanity. The maturity and beauty that comes with "DEM" contribute to this universal development.

One of the fundamental pursuits of design is to give meaning to life in the shaping process and to create a more humanistic environment for people. From this vantage point, there is an opportunity to beautify the world through "DEM" in design, as well as in all aspects of life.

In the exhibition we will prepare as the Department of Fashion Design, Faculty of Architecture and Design, Selcuk University, we hope to present textile/weaving and fashion design works created with the theme of "DEM" as an expression of respect for the understanding of humanism. Hope to meet you in design for love, peace and respect for humanity.
